VOL. IX. NO. 30. SANTA ANA, CALIFORNIA, SATURDAY EVENING, JANUARY 3, 1914. 50 CENTS PER MONTH

PENSION LAW ACCEPTED BY 145

Less Than Half of Teachers Put Themselves Under Provisions

THIRTY-SEVEN NEW ONES ALREADY IN

From Warrant, $1 a Month to Be Deducted by the Superintendent

Of the 303 teachers in the public schools of Orange county with whom it was optional whether or not they should put themselves under the provisions of the teachers pension law, 145 took action and 158 did not.

There are 340 teachers in the public schools of the county. Thirty-seven of them had no option in the matter. They began teaching last September and after the new law became effective. With new teachers the law directs the county superintendent of schools to withhold $1 per month from their pay to be applied to the state teachers' pension fund. With new teachers, there is no option.

Teachers who had been in the service previous to the passage of the law, had the choice of placing themselves under the law. They had to designate their intentions by written applications before Jan. 1, 1914. The matter was brought up at the county institute by County Superintendent of Schools Mitchell, so that every teacher thoroughly understood the provisions of the law.

Under that law, a pension of $500 per year will be given to a teacher after thirty years teaching. The number of years already taught count upon the thirty years. At the end of fifteen years, disability entitles the teacher to a pension of $250 a year.

Society Woman Defends an Alleged Murderer

LAKEWOOD, N. J., Jan. 3.—Mrs. Jasper Lynch, a figure in society of this resort, which numbers New York, Washington and Phiadelphia fashionables among its patrons, has assumed a remarkable role, which has mystified the whole winter colony, in going to the defense of William J. Leehan, on trial for the murder of Mrs. Caroline Turner.

The victim was beaten to death three years ago in the woods. Leehan was caught later. Lakewood was torn with the dispute over his guilt. Then Mrs. Lynch decided she would supply the funds for his defense. She employed three of the best lawyers of the New Jersey bar. The prosecutor arranged for help from the attorney general of the state and his predecessor in office.

It is stated for Mrs. Lynch that she believes Leehan is the victim of a conspiracy, and she has become so interested in the case that she is willing to give her time, her money, and her energy to see the accused get justice.

COPPERFIELD IS GUARDED BY MILITIA

Gov. Lister's Order to Close Law-Breaking Saloons Defied by Town Officials

THEIR ATTORNEY SPEEDS THROUGH STORM TO AID

Saloon-Keepers Given Till Monday to Ship Bar Fixtures and Stock Out of Town

COPPERFIELD, Ore., Jan. 3.—With an armed guard stationed in front of each closed saloon, Copperfield today began its first day under martial law. Col. Lawson of the coast artillery, with five militiamen and two penitentiary guards is controlling the town. The saloonmen have been given until 4 o'clock on next Monday afternoon, when the next train is scheduled to depart, to ship their bar fixtures and stock from the county, under penalty of confiscation.

Governor Lister recently sent his secretary, Miss Fern Hobbs, to Copperfield to close the saloons when the county officials refused to heed his order to close them following a complaint that they had been violating the law.

The town officials are all saloon men. Their attorney is driving through a fierce hail and sleet storm seventy miles from Baker, trying to reach here before the train departs. The saloonmen believe he has secured an injunction to prevent the governor from interfering with their business.

STORM SIGNALS FOR NORTH COAST

Flood Conditions Improved in Central California—Wild Surf Does Damage

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 3.—The storm and flood conditions of central California are improved but another storm for tonight is predicted. Storm signals are out for the entire central and northern coast. Train and wire service have improved but a majority of the trains are still late.

The worst surf in ten years continues unabated here. A mile south of the life saving station at Ocean Beach three cottages were washed to sea. All the government wireless stations are out of commission.

The Sacramento river is now flowing over the levees at Colusa and Knights Landing but there is no extensive damage. The Western Pacific's service is badly crippled. Except on the Gurneville branch, the Northwestern Pacific's service has been restored. The Oakland, Antioch and Eastern has resumed its Sacramento service. The water along the tracks is receding.

Sacramento River Rising

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 3.—Although the Sacramento river is rising slightly here there is no danger from high water, the forecaster said today conditions remain critical between Colusa and Knights Landing, but no extensive damage has been done.

EUGENIC MARRIAGE IN WISCONSIN HAS WINGED POOR CUPID

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Jan. 3.—There was not a single marriage in the state of Wisconsin yesterday. Alderman Koerner blames the eugenic marriage law, which became effective on January 1. He fears race suicide, and will ask the city council to pass a resolution demanding that the governor call a special session of the legislature to amend the law or repeal it.

County clerks declare that the portion of the law demanding the Wasserman test before a license can be issued, is the main detriment. The test costs the applicant from $10 to $15.

ROAD BUILDERS OF RIVERSIDE HERE

Commission and Surveyor of Sister County Get Pointers on Problems

ARE TO ADVERTISE BONDS ON MONDAY

Among Roads to Be Macadamized is that to County Line in Canyon

Riverside county's highway commissioners, S. C. Evans, W. B. Clancey and A. P. Campbell, and surveyor, George M. Pearson, are in Santa Ana today hunting for pointers, and they are getting them in wholesale quantities from the Orange County Highway Commission.

Recently Riverside county voted $1,125,000 bonds for building a system of good roads, and on next Monday those bonds will be advertised for sale. The system of roads as outlined in the preliminary plans of the highway commission call for a macadam road from Riverside to the Orange county line in the Santa Ana canyon, joining the Orange county road. Probably that portion of the highway system will be of more interest to people of this county than any other.

The purpose of the visit here today was for a heart to heart talk with this county's commissioners, M. M. Crookshank, D. C. Pixley and Richard Egan. The visitors met these commissioners in the office of the commission in the Register building, and questions and answers flew thick and fast, indicating the keen interest of the visitors in the various problems that their county will have to deal with. The Orange county men gave the Riversiders the full benefit of their experiences. Details of office and field work were inquired into.

County Surveyor Pearson had a conference with Chief Engineer Halladay.

"We are glad that our bonds carried," said S. C. Evans, who is well known here as an orange grower and as the Republican candidate for Congress in the last congressional election. "We will not have much time today, if any, to inspect the roads being built here. We came down for a talk with your commissioners."

5-CENT BEDS AND BATHS IN NEW CHICAGO HOTEL

CHICAGO, Jan. 3.—The Rufus F. Dawes memorial hotel was opened Thursday night. Bed and bath were offered to all comers at five cents a night. The hotel was erected by Charles G. Dawes, president of the Central Trust Company, as a memorial to his son, who was drowned in Lake Geneva a year ago. The construction work, under the direction of Brown & Walcott, the architects, had been rushed to be ready for New Year's day.

EXPOSURE OF TRAFFIC IN GERMAN CHILDREN

BERLIN, Jan. 3.—Startling revelations concerning child traffic in Germany are contained in a book published today by Mme. Henrietta Arendt of Stuttgart. She charges that the sale of children goes on uninterruptedly with the silent consent of public opinion, parents actually disposing of them to the highest bidder among better-situated childless families.

In a single month she collected 277 advertisements inserted in the newspapers by persons offering to sell or "adopt" children. As many of the little ones are "adopted" merely for future exploitation, it really means a slave traffic of the most remarkable character, says Mme. Arendt. In a number of the papers the advertisements regarding children are interspersed with those for the sale of cattle and pigs.

SPANISH PARLIAMENT DISSOLVED BY ALFONSO

MADRID, Jan. 3.—King Alfonso, on the advice of the Dato cabinet, on New Year's day dissolved the Spanish parliament and proclaimed a general election. Deputies will be voted for on march 8, and on March 15 the new senators will be elected.

FRANCE AND ENGLISH AIRMEN TO VIE IN AIR

LONDON, Jan. 3.—Rolland Garros, a leading French cross-country air pilot, has challenged Gustav Hamel, premier British flyer, to an aerial contest to decide British or French supremacy before representatives of the aero clubs of the two respective countries.

Garros suggested Paris as the meeting place and desired that each aviator fly his rival's machine. Hamel probably will accept.

Sir Thomas Lipton and Mr. Nicholson, Designer of Yacht to Race for America's Cup

Sir Thomas Lipton, who has challenged again for the America's cup, and his designer, Mr. Nicholson, are confident they will be able to lift it this time. They have not given out details of the vessel which is to sail across the Atlantic with the purpose of taking home the cup that has been in the possession of the American yachtsmen for a half century. Nor have the designers at work on the American yachts which will compete in the trials for the honor of sailing against Lipton published their plans. Lipton assumes the same jaunty hope of victory he has had in his former and unsuccessful attempts to win the cup, as shown in the photograph just taken of him.

30,000 WORKERS THREATENING STRIKE

Iron Workers in Upper Michigan May Foment Country-Wide Strike

MARQUETTE, Mich., Jan. 3.—A strike of 30,000 upper Michigan iron workers is threatened today in an effort to force a settlement of the copper strike. A vote was taken by two local unions, Ishpeming and Negaunee, and the vote favored a strike. The laborites say the same sentiment exists throughout the iron country. They declare that if necessary they will declare a strike against the iron industry throughout the entire country.

The unions voting demanded federal intervention in the copper strike on penalty of calling an iron strike.

FARRISS AGAIN SENTENCED TO BE HUNG

Motion for Change of Plea Denied Attorney Gray to Appeal to Supreme Court

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 3.—Judge Craig today signed the death warrant of Ralph Fariss, the Southern Pacific bandit who killed H. E. Montague. He must hang at San Quentin on Friday, March 6, between the hours of 10 and 4 o'clock. Sheriff Hammel will start for San Quentin with the bandit tomorrow morning. James Fariss, the father, will not accompany his son. He spent his last cent in the defense, but has hopes of success in an appeal to the supreme court. He plans a prayer to Governor Johnson for clemency, and has received many letters from women saying they will back him in the appeal.

Was Resentenced

Fariss was resentenced late yesterday following a denial of the motion of his attorney, Wheaton A. Gray, that he be allowed to withdraw his plea of guilty and plead not guilty. Gray declared the defendant insane and asked the court to allow a jury to pass on the question of his sanity. Gray filed notice of an appeal to the state supreme court from the ruling on the motion and from the sentence.

RESIGNATIONS IN MORGAN FIRM DISCUSSED

Vice-President Marshall Thinks Move is One of Reform—N. Y. Exchange Unmoved

INDIANAPOLIS, Jan. 3.—The resignation of the members of the Morgan firm from numerous corporation directorates was discussed today by Vice-President Marshall as follows:

"I hope I am not mistaken in thinking this a genuine reform. I have not had time to study how far-reaching the withdrawal is. If it goes to the extent I believe things are going in America, it will be most satisfactory to the people. The interlocking of directorates is an economic mistake."

N. Y. EXCHANGE INDIFFERENT TO MORGAN RESIGNATIONS

NEW YORK, Jan. 3—The New York stock exchange showed little interest today in the resignations of the members of the J. P. Morgan firms yesterday from various directorates. Trading was comparatively light and was marked by slight declines.

UNEMPLOYED MEN ARE PLACED IN LOS ANGELES

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 3.—Superintendent N. J. Davenport of the municipal employment bureau reported this afternoon that between 2500 and 3000 people had applied for work and that many had been placed. The city council is considering plans to establish a camp for the unemployed men in Griffith Park, and appropriated $2,500 today for this work. The men will be given employment there and on the streets at $1 a day.

WASHINGTON WORKS FOR STATE-WIDE TEMPERANCE

SEATTLE, Washington, Jan. 3.—A campaign for state-wide prohibition was begun here today with the circulation of petitions to place the measures on the ballot at the next election.

It will take practically 6,000 signatures to bring the measure before the people but as hundreds have volunteered to aid in the work of circulation the petitions it was believed sufficient names would easily be secured.

The measure was drawn up by L. E. Kirkpatrick who enlisted the aid of some of the best constitutional lawyers in the state so as to obviate any chance of legal complications later. It has the approval of officers of intemperance and reform organizations.

WHITELAW REID'S ESTATE PASSES MILLION MARK

NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—The estate left by Whitelaw Reid, ambassador to Great Britain, editor and part owner of the New York Tribune, was valued at $1,398,884, in a report filed at White Plains today by the tax appraiser.

He speaks to a gathering of Democrates at Topeka Monday evening; before a commercial meeting in Lincoln, Neb., on January 6, and to the real estate men of Chicago on January 7.

WILSON WILL NOT CHANGE POLICY

Conference With Lind Confirms His Stand on Mexican Affairs and Huerta

LIND TO RETURN TO VERA CRUZ, MEXICO, AS ENVOY

Desperate Fighting Continues at Ojiniga With Result Still in Doubt

GULFPORT, Miss., Jan. 3.—President Wilson's Mexican policy remains unmodified, and Provisional President Huerta must go. Until he does, the administration's attitude toward Mexico will be unchanged. Envoy John Lind returns to Vera Cruz today. The President himself was authority for these statements today, putting an end to all rumors that he has decided on more drastic action in Mexico.

President Wilson motored to Gulfport today with Lind's two sons, sent them aboard the Chester for a visit with their father, then assembled the news correspondents. Leaning against his automobile, he announced that he was ready to answer questions. He said that Lind's visit was merely to clear up questions that would have occasioned a long exchange of messages. He said that no new points had been discussed, that he and Lind were merely desirious of a personal talk.

The President failed to explain why there was an attempt at secrecy as to Lind's visit or say whether or not he was more hopeful of a speedy settlement of affairs in Mexico. He was, however, plainly pleased with Lind's statement as to the situation.

President Wilson would not permit any one to quote him directly today, but it is evident from his words that he is sure the Huerta regime is tottering. It is understood that Lind informed him that financial affairs in Mexico are near a crisis. When it was suggested to him that Lind might not like to return to his Mexican exile, the President smiled and answered that his emissary was deeply interested in the Mexican situation and was perfectly willing to wait there until the end.

Nothing specific was discussed, the President said, regarding the lifting of an embargo on the shipment of arms into Mexico or recognizing the rebels and their belligerency, but he admitted that both propositions were discussed. Lind will remain in Vera Cruz on his return to Mexico.

FIGHTING DESPERATE AT OJINIGA—NO OUTCOME YET

PRESIDIO, Texas, Jan. 3.—Fighting at Ojinaga was fiercer than ever today. The rebel attack continued throughout the night, growing in intensity after midnight. They constantly appeared to be gaining ground, but the federals are making a wonderful defense against almost impossible odds. There was no early confirmation of the reports that General Natero had succeeded General Ortega in command of the rebels, although the rumor is generally believed. Ojinaga refugees say the rebels are in the outskirts of the town and that there are many hand-to-nand conflicts with knives and clubbed guns. The refugees also declare that the federal dead number 400, and the wounded 450, the rebel dead being 300 and the wounded 600. There is apparently no means of verification or denial of these figures.

A case of smallpox has been found among the wounded here, and army surgeons here say that if the disease spreads the Ojinaga situation will be appalling, as the town is without doctors, medicine or hospitals. Precautions were ordered taken to prevent the spread of the disease to the American side.

The artillery fire was terrific today but the results are yet unknown. The wounded continued being brought across the line. Their reports were widely different. American army officers believe the reports of the number of dead are exaggerated, in view of the apparent ferocity marking the present fighting after four days of battle.

GOOD LAWS NEW YEAR'S PRESENTS FOR WORKERS

NATURAL GAS BY MARCH 1

Southern Counties Company Contracts for Output of Three Companies

Anaheim Plain Dealer: Unexpected delays, amanating from one source and another, have prevented the Southern Counties Gas Company from commencing the work of laying its gas main from the oil field to connect with the distributing systems of Anaheim, Placentia and Fullerton, but it is now expected that this work will be commenced not later than the middle of the month. Its completion will be a matter of only a few weeks, and the manager expects to have an unlimited quantity of natural gas ready for distribution early in February.

To a Plain Dealer representative, the manager stated that the Southern Counties Gas Company had contracted for the gas output of three companies in the oil field. The amount contracted for is greatly in excess of the amount that is needed, based on present consumption, but big increase in the demand is logically expected to follow when the new rate of 75 cents per thousand feet goes into effect, which will date from the beginning of supplying consumers with the natural article. Another reason for contracting for excess gas is that the supply from one or more wells may greatly decrease in flow at any time, and without this excess supply arranged for would greatly cripple the service.

When the gas is ready for delivery it will be turned on simultaneously at Anaheim, Placentia and Fullerton. Santa Ana, which will also use the natural product, will be supplied later, as will also Orange and Garden Grove, and pretty much all of the county.

Natural gas at 75 cents per thousand means to consumers of artificial gas a big reduction in their fuel bills—probably half—for they are now paying $1.25 per thousand for the manufactured article, which is not nearly so great in heat and light energy.

Cheaper and better gas should be a stimulus toward bringing manufacturing concerns to the city, and it is understood that the board of trade will lay much stress on this valuable asset when negotiating with manufacturing concerns seeking new locations.

By the first of March, at the outside, natural gas in quantities to suit any and all demands, will be pouring through the Southern County Gas Company's mains, and it will mark the beginning, unquestionably, of large commercial expansion in northern Orange county.

POPULATION OF ORANGE NEAR 4,300 MARK IS THE ESTIMATE

Building of Ninety Residences During Past Year, With $219,950 Permits Is Record of Progress

Orange News: Estimating on a basis of five persons to each new house put up during the year, the city of Orange has grown 450 in population during the past year. Assuming that the telephone company's estimate of population is correct, this would give the city a population of approximately 4350.

In spite of the fact that ninety new homes were constructed during the year, there is at the present time a marked shortage of houses here. The demand now exceeds the suppply, as it has exceeded the supply at all times during the past year. Many people have experienced great difficulty in finding suitable quarters in the town, and some, it is known, have been compelled to move elsewhere for that reason.

With the coming of the Pacific Electric within the month, this house shortage will assume even more serious proportions, although at the present time a 22-apartment house is being rushed to completion.

The past year was a record-breaker in point of building, the volume of permits exceeding that of any town of similar size in this part of the state and going ahead of many larger towns, notably Redlands. The total amount of the building permits for 1913 was $219,950. The ninety new homes finished or started during the year illustrate the desirable character of this volume of business.

Permits for December, amounting to $21,100, were issued as follows:

M. ... Weitbrecht, E. Walnut	$1,500
E. H. Klaustermeyer, North Tustin	200
C. C. Schultz, South Batavia	1,600
H. ... Elliott, North Orange	1,500

IMPORTANT RULING THROWS DAMAGE SUIT OUT OF COURT

By overruling the demurrer of the plaintiff to the answer of the defendant in the damage suit of Mrs. Josephine Pleticha against George W. Moore, ex-supervisor and well known sugar beet and celery grower of Westminster and manager of the Celery Growers' Association, Judge West has put an end to the action. Possibly a new complaint will be filed. The point upon which the case is thrown out of court is that the plaintiff did not name her husband and a co-plaintiff with her in this action for personal damages.

On Nov. 13, 1912, Moore was driving an automobile on South Main street, and ran into Mrs. Pleticha, who lives here. The woman was injured. She brought suit for $2500 damages. She is represented by Attorney Stanley, and Moore by Daniel & Daniel.

In the answer of Attorneys Daniel & Daniel, the point is raised that Mrs. Pleticha has not legal capacity to sue as she is a married woman, and under the law both should appear as plaintiffs. This point was especially contended for on the ground that an amendment passed since the accident does not apply. In his opinion Judge West says:

"Section 370 of the Code of Civil Procedure was amended at the last session of the legislature and the amendment took effect on the 10th day of August, 1913. Plaintiff contends that prior to that amendment she had the right, and that by the amendment she was particularly clothed with the legal right to maintain this action without joining with her her husband.

"Said section, so far as material since the amendment, provides that, 'When a married woman is a party her husband must be joined with her, except, 1. When the action concerns her separate property, including actions for injury to her person * * * she may sue alone.'

"The phrase 'including actions for injury to her person,' etc., was inserted in said section by the amendment above referred to. Said section as amended does not pretend or attempt to make said section, or any part of it, retroactive.

"The plaintiff contends that said section is retroactive, that it relates mainly to a remedy and not a right, and that the defendant has waived any right he may have had by not raising the question before the section as amended took effect.

"I think that neither of plaintiff's contentions can be maintained."

Following this, Judge West enters into an able and convincing argument of the points raised by the demurrer of the plaintiff to the defendant's answer. In a clear and interesting manner, the judge shows why he considers the position of the plaintiff untenable. Further he says:

"The plaintiff's remedy is provided for and she must conform to the law as it stood at the time of the alleged accident, and the amendment did not change or modify that remedy. Said section 370 as it then stood specifically declares that, 'When a married woman is a party her husband MUST be joined with her, except when the action concerns her separate property, and other conditions mentioned, of which the subject of this action is not one; and the law as set out in said section is well settled by the decisions of the appellate courts of this state, and it is directly held that the husband and wife ARE NECESSARY parties to an action to recover damages for injuries to the wife.

"The character of the recovery in a suit of this kind was not, and since the amendment to said section is not, the separate property of the wife. Said section as amended provides, when a married woman is a party her husband must be joined with her, except, 1. When the action concerns her separate property, 'including actions for injury to her person, etc., * * * she may sue alone.' There is not the least suggestion in this section as to the recovery being her separate property. The sections of the Civil Code on this subject have not been changed since they were enacted in 1872.

"Section 162 of that Code provides: 'All property of the wife owned by her before marriage, and that acquired afterward by gift, devise, bequest or descent, with the rents, issues and profits thereof, is her separate property.' Section 163 provides what shall constitute the separate property of the husband, while section 164 says: 'All OTHER property acquired after marriage by EITHER HUSBAND OR WIFE, or both, is community property.'"

The judge in closing decides that the ruling in the present case, which throws the case out of court, will not prevent bringing another action, the judge declaring that the statute of limitations does not begin to run during the period of her incapacity by reason of her injury.

WANTS WAR VESSELS AT THE ENCAMPMENT

Huntington Beach News: Pursuing his plan of having a number of United States war vessels here during the next annual encampment of the Southern California Veterans' Association in this city, Commander Knowlton forwards to the Huntington Beach News the following communication:

From the Secretary of the Navy to Senator John D. Works. My dear Senator:—I have received your letter of December 11, transmitting a copy of a communication from O. V. Knowlton, commander of the Southern California Veterans' Association of the G. A. R., in which it is requested that naval vessels be present off Huntington Beach on the occasion of the annual meeting of the Association there on August 12 to August 23 next. It is as yet too early to determine whether or not it will be practicable to detail ships to visit Huntington Beach on that occasion, but I will make a careful note of your wishes in the matter, with a view to their fulfillment if possible. Sincerely yours, Josephus Daniels, Secretary of the Navy.

Commander Knowlton writes that he is much encouraged concerning the success of his plan. He will also ask the governor of California and the adjutant general to arrange for having the state's coast artillery here during the encampment.

THE HOLIDAYS

New Year's is a legal holiday in every state but three. Christmas in all but one. School and college vacations come at that time, many business men make it the occasion for homecomings, and the period is one of much festivity, even in localities where business does not stop much.

The observance, so nearly universal, of two holidays in a week is contrary to the usual habits of unbroken industry of the English speaking race. It is not a people who are given to celebrations, but rather one addicted by habit to long and unbroken periods of labor.

Our forefathers argued that holidays broke the current of industry. The only way to make working people industrious was to establish a regular routine of labor. The less it was upset by holidays, the more was done.

Old Puritan sentiment in New England excommunicated people for attending church Christmas day. In many rural districts all over the country it is still customary for country stores to keep open every holiday up to noon. In England forty years ago the only holidays when business houses closed were Christmas and Good Friday.

Of course it takes unbroken toil to accomplish results. The Hindoos up to recently had 100 stated holidays yearly, and their people stand where their ancestors did 1000 years ago. The English speaking race has half a dozen holidays, and it revolutionizes the conditions of living every generation, but it has carried this unremitting diligence to the point of overstrain.

In most parts of the United States Christmas and New Year's doings have broken the routine of winter for many years. The feeling for these festivities becomes second nature, associated with a long series of childish glorifications. The heart sparkles with gladness, and the spirit of frolic takes possession of sober grown-ups, and incites them to all sorts of jolly revelry.

THE SOUTHERN PACIFIC'S GREAT VICTORY

Californians will gladly congratulate the Southern Pacific railroad in having won the Harriman memorial medal, which means that the Southern Pacific company has the best record for greatest progress in safe operation of trains. The award was made recently in Chicago, at the National Exposition of Sanitation and Safety. The nearest competitors were the Pennsylvania line and the New York Central.

The award of the Harriman medal is explained by Vice President E. E. Calvin as follows:

"The exhibit of statistics and conditions which brought about the award was a surprise to the eastern railroad officers, as well as to the public in that section of the country. The foundation of the plan for securing such a result was laid a good many years before it was taken up in any systematic way by any other roads in the country; and of course have been continuously improved upon as operating conditions and difficulties have changed. The success obtained by this company is due, not only to its officers, but more particularly to the employes in station and train service. Our employes have always taken an interest in it, and it is due to that fact that we have our record of the past five years to point to."

It is very gracious of the official to give the company's employes so much of the credit. Doubtless they deserve it. The record is a proud one; and there will be a general hope among the patrons of the road that it will be consistently maintained.

HOLD FAST TO IDEALISM

H. W. Mabie, in Books and Culture, writes that nothing is more essential than the courage, the joy and the insight which grows out of idealism, and no spiritual possession is so easily lost. The spiritual depression of a reactionary period, the routine of work, the immersion in the stream of events, the decline of moral energy, conspire to blight this noble use of the imagination, and to chill the faith which makes creative living and working possible. The familiar companionship of the great idealist is one of the greatest resources against the paralysis of this faith and the decay of this faculty.

SPECIAL WASHINGTON LETTER

By Burton K. Standish

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo has in his employ a young man who is a hard drinker. Moreover, the secretary knows that this young man imbibes freely, and, strange as it may seem, pays him because he is a good drinker.

The young man in question is George F. Mitchell of Washington. But before you form an opinion of this young man and his employer, you should know that he drinks nothing stronger than tea—and that his position is "supervising tea examiner" of the Treasury Department.

Up to date he has never been known to test less than four gallons of tea a day. He could tell in his sleep the difference between a cup of Ping Suey Green, Scented Oriental Pekoe, or Foochow Oolong. He can recognize by second nature whether the brand which milady serves at 5 p.m. is going to fill her with cheer immortalized in literature, or with indigo blue, talc, gypsum or barium sulphate.

Mitchell has seven men in his charge, located in New York, Boston, Chicago, St. Paul, Tacoma, San Francisco and Honolulu. Like Mitchell, these men must test several gallons of tea a day to determine whether or not the importations from the far off tea fields measure up to the official standards set by Mitchell's office.

Tea is the one article of food which is measured according to a set standard. Twelve grades are selected yearly. Then every chest of tea that enters the United States must conform to these standards—or farewell. The tea drinking determines the quality and fitness for consumption.

The test for coloring and chemical "facing" is the simple device of Dr. E. Alberta Read of the Department of Agriculture's bureau of chemistry. She discovered quite by accident one day while testing some teas that the sediment from her samples left a blue mark on paper. She rubbed the tea with a knife. It left a blue smudge. This was further tested, and found to indicate invariably the presence of indigo coloring.

Then she investigated further and found that a black paper would indicate the presence of such "facing" or adulterants as talc, gypsum, barium sulphate. Now the "Read test" is officially recognized by the supervising tea examiner as the best and simplest method of determining the presence of impurities. All that is really left for the examiners is to taste for quality.

Moreover, tea buyers abroad learned that they could test the product quite simply by the "Read test," and they began to sample the goods before they ordered them shipped to this country.

Consequently since the middle of this year, there has been practically no rejections of teas at American ports. They have all been pure and in entire confromity with the federal regulations.

Mitchen shows that at the close of the fiscal year, ending June 30, 95,539,667 pounds of tea were imported, as against 94,077,880 the previous year. Of this quantity 1,461,787 pounds were rejected either because it contained coloring or facing matter. But the simple but effective system of the woman chemist is changing that, and next year Mitchell expects his report to be almost free of rejections for adulterations.

Here's a new story they're telling on Senator "J. Ham" Lewis, of Illinois, who refuses to testify to its accuracy. Lewis was in the Members' Gallery of the Senate the other day with some constituents. With typical Lewisesque politeness he was pointing out the celebrities to his friends. On a row of seats behind Lewis a group of young women tourists were drinking in the senator's remarks. Finally one of the eavesdroppers broke into Lewis's exposition with the question:

"Is Senator Lewis there? I've heard so much about him and his famous whiskers that I'm anxious to see him.

"No, madam," Lewis is said to have replied, "the Senator from Illinois and his whiskers are not on the floor today. Both are probably entertaining visitors somewhere else."

So popular is statistics-gathering in the Interstate Commerce Commission that even the negro elevator men have adopted it. They figured that their two cars carry more than 2000 passengers a day and that at two cents a mile, the gross operating revenue would be $720 a day if each passenger rode as many miles as the conductors.

TROUBADOURS PLEASED

Y. M. C. A. Presented Musicians in Big Program, Followed by Watch Meeting

"The Troubadours" entertainment given here on Wednesday night under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. was an immense success and was heard by a good-sized audience in the Grand Opera House. Particularly good were the baritone vocal solo, "Mother," the humorous readings set to music, the harp solos and the saxaphone playing of popular airs arranged as a medley.

The next Y. M. C. A. attraction will be the Occidental Glee Club.

Watch Meeting

Some 200 people assembled at the First M. E. Church after the Troubadours' entertainment, opening the watch meeting with the singing of familiar songs. Short addresses on progress along various lines during 1913 included a talk on Educational Progress, by Prof. Cranston; Political Progress, Judge Thomas; Temperance, Mrs. E. B. Norman; Young People's Work, Herbert Rankin; Church Work, Rev. Geo. Husser, and Y. M. C. A. Work, R. J. Hamilton.

Refreshments were then served by the young ladies of the church, and a praise and prayer meeting followed, in charge of Rev. E. J. Inwood, the exercises lasting till midnight, when 1913 ended and 1914 began.

The Nightingale Club

The members of this musically-titled card club had a jolly club meeting last night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Poole of Tustin. Mr and Mrs. Poole are ideal entertainers, so the evening was particularly enjoyed. Whist was played, the first prize winners being Mrs. Charles Artz and Frank Hoffman. The consolation prizes went to Mrs. J. C. Stearns and James Pearce, the latter of Santa Ana.

Shortly after 11 o'clock, the host and hostess served delicious refreshments, Mr. Poole proving an efficient aid to his wife. A merry time was spent during this part of the evening's pleasure.

The members of the club present, besides the host and hostess, were Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Artz, Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Nimmo, Mr. and Mrs. James Pearce, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hoffman, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Swarthout, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Stearns, Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Smith of Santa Ana, and Roy Hall of Wichita, Kas., were guests of the club.

"SNOW BABY," NOW LOVELY GIRL, MAKES HER SOCIAL DEBUT

Romantic interest attached itself to the social deput of Miss Marie Peary in Washington, D. C., yesterday. Miss Peary, famous as the "snow baby," was born within the Arctic circle, and is the daughter of the Arctic explorer, Robert Peary, now Admiral Peary. The Admiral, who rarely attends a social function, assisted his wife yesterday in presenting Miss Peary, who is a beautiful blonde, to society in Washington, which is greatly interested in the lovely girl. Appropriate to the snow clad region of the birthplace of the debutante, the decorations of the Peary home were all in white for the coming-out reception. Miss Peary was dressed entirely in white.

Commandery Entertained

The Knights Templar of Santa Ana Commandery No. 36, proved royal hosts on New Year's eve, when they entertained their wives, sweethearts and friends. The Masonic Temple was handsomely decorated for the event, and the Knights, under gallant Captain Len Hervey, demonstrated the opening commandery exercises most impressively. Eminent Commander H. Clay Kellogg took the Knights through a drill and after an address of welcome to the guests, dismissed the plumed commandery.

Entertainment was then in order and was opened by several numbers from a male quartette composed of Messrs. Garstang, Phillips, Rowland and Parker, with Mr. Garstang, Jr., as accompanist. Mr. Garstang, Sr., also sang a solo. All the musical numbers were encored

J. W. McCormac gave a talk on the work of the order and two readings were given: "Mrs. Mary Sarah Lee's Experience With the Masons," by H. Clay Kellogg, and "The New Year," by Prince L. Tople. Judge Thomas gave an interesting travel lecture illustrated with stereopticon views of places he had visited in Canada and the United States.

Refreshments were then served in the banquet room, after which adjournment was made to the parlors, where cards and games were enjoyed until time to welcome the new year came around. The welcome to 1914 and the farewell to 1913 were impressive, and were participated in by the 150 guests present.

'ROUND THE CORNER CLUB

Husbands of Women Belonging to Neighborhood Club Are Entertained

If the husbands of the ladies belonging to the 'Round the Corner Club fare as well the rest of the year as they did last night when they were entertained by the club ladies, they will rise up and call 1914 a real year of grace. The home of Mrs. A. M. Gardner, 311 East Washington avenue, was the scene of the New Years "jinx" of the club, and most beautifully had it been decorated for the dinner and the evening following. Red and green, the holiday colors, indicated the cheerful hours planned by the ladies for their masculine guests. Red roses and ferns were employed in adorning the parlor while poinsettias, brilliant holly berries, smilax and ferns were combined in the beautiful table decorations. In the center of the table the gorgeous poinsettias nodded from a pretty basket, and at each place were lily shaped nut cups of green, with "snappers" as favors. Holly with smilax and fern were massed in baskets that were suspended from doorways of the dining room and library, which had been thrown together for the five-course dinner served at 6:30 o'clock. Several fair young ladies waited on the table, including the charming daughters of the hostess, Misses Ethel and Minnie Gardner, who were at home for the event. Other attractive girls aiding in the table service were Misses Elizabeth Jayne, Harriett Robinson, Cara Keech, Ruth Hilliard and Blanche Graves.

The dinner menu included fruit cocktail, roast turkey with mashed potatoes, cauliflower, escalloped oysters, cranberry frappe and coffee, a cheese course, perfection salad and wafers, plum pudding with hard sauce, nuts and candies. After the last course had been cleared away a bit of sport was indulged in. Each dinner guest was furnished with a supply of chewing gum and requested to fashion his or her favorite animal. Some wonderful productions were evolved, producing unlimited amusement. Old fashioned games, such as twirling the platter, a spelling match and the measuring of smiles—a contest in which the ladies proved to be the champion smilers—and a game of anagrams completed an evening brimming over with jollity. Music from an excellent graphanola made a pleasing accompaniment to the fun.

Those who enjoyed this delightful evening besides the lady of the house, Mrs. Gardner, and the young ladies assisting her, were Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Davis, Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Hickox, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Sprague, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Smith, Dr. and Mrs. A. R. Hervey, Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Stone, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Budrow, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Keech, Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Robinson, Mr. and Mrs. Jayne, Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Huff.

DRAMA ABROAD AND AT HOME

By Beau Rialto

NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—After one of the most remarkable runs in Broadway's history, "Within the Law" will close tonight at the Eltinge theater where Bayard Veiller's wonderful melodrama had its premiere about a year and a half ago. But that does not mean that "Within the Law" is dead. There are now nine different companies on the road presenting the play in every part of the United States and Canada. During the long New York run Jane Cowl played Mary Turner at every performance with the exception of a few weeks last summer, when she went to Europe for a short vacation. During her absence the lead was played by Helen Ware, who is now out with one of the road companies.

* * *

Succeeding "Within the Law" at the Eltinge theater will be "The Yellow Ticket," a melodrama by an Englishman, which will open on Monday night. Rehearsals for "The Yellow Ticket" were unique in that most of them were conducted in the German Hospital. Florence Reed, the leading woman, underwent an operation for appendicitis, and read her lines from her bed. Jack Barrymore, who was picked for leading man after several aspirants had been tried out and failed, said it made him think of Othello to be going through the love scenes at Miss Reed's bedside.

* * *

Billie Burke came back to town on Christmas in "The Land of Promise," a play by W. Somerset Maugham, who wrote many plays for Ethel Barrymore. Maugham came over from London to see rehearsals and the premiere.

* * *

Miss Doris Keane in "Romance," took a vacation this week and on Monday will open in Cincinnati. The play which had a run in New York surpassed only by "Peg O' My Heart" and "Within the Law," ran fourteen weeks in Chicago.

* * *

The Criterion is not going over to the movies after all. Belasco's "The Man Inside" by Roland B. Molineaux will close there tomorrow and will be followed on January 5 by "Young Wisdom" in which Edith and Mabel Taliaferro are to be starred jointly.

* * *

Went the other night to Sam S. Shubert's Memorial Theater, where I did see Sir Johnston-Forbes-Robertson, the great London play-actor, in Master Will Shakespeare's "Othello." He was the best Moor ever I saw. Mistress Gertrude Elliott was given excellent opportunity to distinguish herself as Desdemona, which she made the most of, save in the fifth act alone, when she sang the "Willow Song" in the bed-chamber scene. In that, it seemed, she too near sounded the note of Ophelia in the mad scene of Hamlet. In all else her Desdemona was the best work she has done in this farewell season of her illustrious husband.

S. A. Cookson as Iago was indeed the villian and read his insidious lines with a dramatic fervor that made the huge audience of chronic first-nighters hate him, which is the measure of success accorded all villians, albeit he lacked in appearance the dashing winsomeness which the skilled plotter is by tradition endowed with.

For the rest of the company nought can be said. All of them were stamped with mediocrity. The noble Duke of Venice looked more like a papal nunzio, and demeaned himself so, too. Brobantio, Cassio and all the rest, it seemed, missed wholly the spirit of their parts.

The critics made much of the physical disqualifications of Forbes-Robertson to portray the swash-buckling Othello. They said he was too fine, too intellectual, too noble. That, methinks, is a matter of opinion. They said his Othello's fineness of character was not that of a man who boasted that he hued his way through twenty men, single handed.

It is a question. Could a big brawny man of primitive passions have made the subtle intellectual love that Othello made to Desdemona? Could a beefy giant who knew nothing but fighting have shown the exquisite tortures of jealousy, the fiery passion and the fine sentiment that Shakespeare puts into his hero? And again, would such a high-minded woman as the lovely Desdemona fall in love with a savage, who had naught to commend him but his tales of gore and who had not the fine intellect, the gentleness and nobility that Forbes-Robertson put into his Othello? Forbes-Robertson's Othello was the most artistic present-day playgoers have seen, nor is it mayhap one whit different from what Will Shakespeare intended, neither, could the truth be known.

WOMEN'S FADS AND FANCIES

By Margaret Mason

NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—Yes, you meet them at every turn, or perhaps one should say curve. The coy pantalet is now fashion's best bet. The regulation manner of panting according to Dame Nature, used to be from the chest out, but Dame Fashion has changed all that and it is now the smart thing to do your panting from the knee down.

Quite the most startling peach of a pair is shown in flesh color crepe de chine and lace. The deep ruffles of the crepe de chine, completely veiled in frothing ruffles of shadow lace, are attached to pink ribbon covered garters which fit just over a dimpled knee and there you are. Others have ruffles of accordian pleated chiffon or crepe de chine edged with narrow lace and garnished with sprays of tiny rosebuds.

These new pantalets are to be worn over tights, but for those desiring the straightaway pantalets from the waist down, dainty models are shown in flesh crepe de chine, lace edged, that garter in snugly around the ankle with an elastic and lace outstanding frill. The frill has certainly been taking one step on the downward path after another. Starting at the throat it fell next to the wrists, then to the waist (for what is a tunic but a frill); from there to the knee, and now we have 'em at your feet.

While you are bowing at the feet of fashion it is fitting to mention a chic new ankle of fur which was worn lately by a well known New Yorker. You will readily infer that this anklet in fur adds a very "fuzzy-wuzzy" touch to a fur trimmed costume as you get a furtive peek at it now and then through the omnipresent slit.

It seems to be a lost art never to turn a hair, for nowadays there is a mad rush of color to the head. If you are wearing a violet green gown it is not enough that your slippers and stockings carry out the color scheme; dear me no. Your hair must also have its little dash of lavender.

If your frock is of azure the mere fact that your blood is blue also won't put the blue ribbon of approval upon you. Your coiffure as well must have the desired cerulean tinge. All this is accomplished by a nice collection of thin wigs in all the smart shades. But if you are simply dyeing to be fashionable then choose a bright shade of cerise, for pink hair is the pink of fashionable perfection.

A fluffy neck and wrist frills are now being replaced by frills starched to the stiffness of cardboard and ironed out to irreproachable smoothness. Very severe and masculine and tailormade they are and bound to be beloved of suffragettes. Most of them are round and flare out stiffly above the coat collar and below the coat sleeves, while others take the shape of the collars affected by Dumas and Voltaire. With these the wrist frills are absent.

If you have a last season's gown of charmeuse or crepe de chine that needs furbishing up, the addition of two violet ruffles midway of the skirt above the knees will transform it into a 1913 model. These soft velour ruffles are indeed charming additions to an afternoon gown and are quite the latest of the late hints from that dear Paris.

Ostrich feathers are coming into their own again and with the law as well as fashion on their side are sending aigrettes and birds of paradise on the wing. Almost every chapeau rears aloft an ostrich plume of brilliant hue, they crest the waves of the evening coiffure and even the low cut evening bodices are edged with their airy fronds.

Hats still continue in their Lilliputian proportions and even with the decollete costume they refuse to give way to the large hat a la Gainsborough. Some of the little, close fitting models of fur and velvet are so snug that, particularly when of brown fur, they give the startling impression that the wearer is bareheaded. It is rather an unfortunate fashion for the moonfaced lady whose countenance is built on broad and sweeping lines. Of course she must be in the mode, with the result that many is the pint bonnet on a quart physiognomy.

UNIQUE BUILDING READY FOR OCCUPANCY

WASHINGTON, Jan. 2.—The Carnegie Institute's new building, equipped for the study of terrestorial magnetism, was made ready for occupancy today. It is a structure absolutely unique in buildings. The smallest possible amount of steel conducive to safety was used in the construction, as steel would affect the delicate magnetic instruments to be housed in the structure. Moreover, the specifications called for as near a vibrationless building as possible and the contractors sought to accomplish this by a construction unusual in buildings. Cross walls of the building have been literally hung from concrete girders and the piers of the foundation work have been packed in sand.

It will be at least six weeks before all the delicate instruments used by the institution can be installed and made ready for use.

HUNDREDS FOLLOW BIER OF MEXICAN PLAZA RIOT VICTIM

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 2.—Several hundred Mexicans, Industrial Workers of the World, the unemployed of Los Angeles, and others, marched in the streets today behind the bier of Raphael Adames, the Mexican killed on Christmas day in the riot at the Plaza. He was buried in the Odd Fellows cemetery. The procession was orderly.

WILL UNSEAL UTAH-APEX MINE TONIGHT IN SEARCH OF LOPEZ

BINGHAM, Utah, Jan. 2.—Sheriff Smith today announced that he will open the Utah-Apex mine tonight to search for Ralph Lopez, the sextuple murderer whom he believes to be sealed in the mine, where he took refuge a month ago. Smith is sanguine in the expectation that he will find Lopez' dead body. Many believe the miners have aided the murderer to escape.

WOMEN AND WET FEET

—Cold and wet feet are a dangerous combination, especially to women, who are more prone to kidney disease than men. Congested kidneys come from a cold, and backache, rheumatism, urinary irregularities and rheumatic forms are not unusual results. Foley Kidney Pills restore the regular and normal action of the kidneys and bladder, and so remove the cause of the trouble. It is an honest and curative medicine that always gives results.—Wingood's Drug Store.

LOS ANGELES PRODUCE MARKET

Lower prices in raisins as the result of short pre-holiday sales by the big packing interests is going to cause a decline in this dried fruit as far as wholesale prices are concerned There was a big sale of raisins, but not nearly as large as the packers had expected and with a heavy 1913 crop to move and a very appreciable surplus from 1912 to be disposed of, the prices are beginning to waver and reports of underselling of the Raisin Growers' Association prices are rife. There is little stock in the eastern markets and the wholesalers are buying just as their needs demand waiting the decline they feel assured must come. The world-wide shortage of dried apples is causing a heavy call for all available stock at prevailing figures and an advance is being looked for at any time. Limited holdings of the packers in prunes have been the cause for a very firm market on that product. The demand is a trifle quiet.

The cranberry market is very firm. It is going to be difficult to secure any more of this fruit on the coast because of the shortage of the Cape Cod crop. Raspberries, and strawberries are still plentiful while there are not many blackberries coming in, some mornings the supply being limited to two or three crates. Prices are ranging from 8 to 15 cents, with a fair average at 12.

The egg market declined to 47 cents on reports of lower northern market and lack of demand yesterday evening

AT THE COURT HOUSE

SUIT BROUGHT FOR DAMAGES ASKING $7500

Guardianship Obtained, and Complaint is Filed by M. Nasatir

As indicated in the petition of M Nasatir for guardianship of his son, Abraham, aged 11, an action has been commenced against William Cochems, proprietor of the Vienna Bakery, for $7500 damages. Yesterday afternoon guardianship was granted, and immediately afterward Attorneys Scarborough & Forgy put the complaint on file at the county clerk's office.

The complaint states that on Aug. 11, 1913, the boy was passing lawfully along the sidewalk on the west side of Spurgeon between Third and Fourth streets, and that Cochems drove his automobile against the boy and knocked him down, and in the mix-up the boy's hand was mangled so that amputation was necessary. Judgment for $132 doctor's bill, $3.75 druggist's bill and $7500 damages is asked.

Over to Jan. 8

Yesterday afternoon Judge West heard arguments in three false registration cases from Anaheim, and continued the matters until Jan. 8.

Attorney H. C. Head represented J. J. Blakemore, J. C. Bourne and W. W. Walker. No attempt was made yesterday to get a dismissal for Blakemore. In his case it is contended that he lived outside of Anaheim, and registered inside. Head said that he was satisfied that that case should be left to a jury. He contended that Bourne and Walker had registered legally. He said the law says that registrations can be legally made if the person registering will have been in the state a year, in the county ninety days and in the precinct thirty days by the next election, presumably meaning the next general election. At the time these two men registered, the Anaheim wet and dry election had not been called. Had they voted before the periods designated were up, it would have been a different matter.

Attorneys Williams & Rutan for Rev. C. H. M. Sutherland argued that his client should be given his freedom on the ground that under the law no offense had been committed.

When Judge West decided to take the matters under advisement, Rev. Sutherland's bond of $500 was again put in force, it having temporarily been set aside that he might be in charge of the sheriff for the purposes of the habeas corpus proceedings.

Divorce Matters

Suit for divorce has been brought by Joseph Ferguson, a well known land owner of Newport Beach, against Edna Ross Ferguson. Williams & Rutan are attorneys for the plaintiff.

Yesterday Judge Thomas granted an interlocutory decree of divorce to John Blaylock against Belle Blaylock. Clyde Bishop is attorney for the plaintiff.

Sent to Sanitarium

F. B. Tuffree of Placentia was in Judge West's court on a charge of insanity, and was committed to a sanitarium at Santa Monica.

Distribution ordered

An order of distribution of the estate of John Veeh, who died at Orange, has been given. By this order $52,179.07 goes to the widow, Margaretha Veeh, $10,000 to the Evangelical Synod of Iowa and $10,000 to the German Evangelical Synod of Missouri and other states. Smaller sums go to several mentioned in the will.

For Inheritance Tax

Today State Controller J. S. Chambers, through District Attorney West, filed a petition here for a hearing on a special inheritance tax matter in relation to property deeded to relatives by J. C. Thomas on Nov. 18, 1912. The petition gives a list of property deeded to Mrs. Sarah E. Thomas and three children, F. M. and C. L. Thomas and Mrs. Sarah A. Bridgeford. It is asserted that these transfers were made in the contemplation of death and without any valuable consideration, and that a state inheritance tax should be paid upon it. Those to whom the property was deeded are cited to appear before J. N. Anderson, special inheritance tax appraiser, on Jan. 15 to show cause why the tax should not be paid.

IN THE JUSTICE'S COURT

BEACH MARSHAL IS DEFENDANT IN TWO DISTURBANCE CASES

Troubles of Ocean View Officer Are to Be Aired in Court Here

Justice Cox has Huntington Beach's troubles on his hands. He is going to hear three disturbance of the peace charges, and two of them are against the beach city's marshal, E. L. Vincent, and the other against the marshal's son, Raleigh.

A few days ago Vincent, and his son, who is a deputy marshal, arrested D. O. Stewart, prominent man at the beach, on a disturbance charge, and Stewart came back with similar charges against the officers, charging that they used some rather strenuous language. Justice Shirley sent the cases to Santa Ana on the motion of attorneys Scarborough & Forgy for a change of venue.

The trials have been set for Jan. 27.

On top of these cases comes another. Charles Salisbury has sworn to a complaint charging Vincent with disturbance. It is alleged that Salisbury was attacked by Vincent on Dec. 1 and was severely injured.

Held to Answer

Yesterday Justice Cox had another Huntington Beach affair to consider. Melton Mora was held to answer for taking a shot at Frank McCain. T. A. Wells, representing Mora, a Spanish man, declared that McCain came into a poolroom and with foul language threatened dire things to all Mexicans. In the fracas that followed, Mora fired the shot. Mora was held to answer. He has been out on bail.

For carrying Gun

Manuel Palma was sent to jail for six months for carrying a revolver. Under Sheriff Law swore to the complaint. Whenever a man comes before Justice Cox for carrying a revolver, a severe sentence can be expected, and the effect on gun packing Mexicans has been good.

DETAILS FOR COUNTY TRACK MEET PLANNED

Big Athletic Event Will Be Held on Local Track

A meeting of the Orange County Athletic League was held at 9:30 today in the Polytechnic. The main business was working out the details of the county meet to be held in Santa Ana the second Saturday in March. An order of events was determined upon; also the number of starters in each event, and whether heats should be run in certain events.

It was also voted to avoid gold, silver and bronze medals for first, second and third places in each event except the relay and to award gold medals to each member of the winning relay team. Ray Adkinson, manager of the Santa Ana track team, was made manager of the county meet.

The manager was instructed to secure officials outside of the schools instead of using faculty members and in some cases students, as has been done to some extent here-to-fore.

Everything will be done to make the 1914 meet the biggest athletic event the county has yet seen. Last year some new and sensational records were made. It is expected a lot more old records will be smashed this year.

The league gave an official interpretation to the eligibility rules that will greatly affect the prospects of some of the schools not only in track but baseball also.

The question of the eligibility of "Bus" Callan, Fullerton's star catcher, was taken up and settled entirely to his satisfaction. It seems that Callan played professional ball last summer but escaped being professionalized by the team going broke before it paid any of the players. He was declared eligible by the league officials.

On next Wednesday at 3 p. m. the semi-finals of the boys' basketball schedule will be played off at the Poly High court between Orange and Huntington Beach. The winner of this game will play Anaheim at the same place a week later.

FIRST WOMAN LAWYER IS ADMITTED TO SWISS BAR

BERNE, Switzerland, Jan. 3.—Switzerland today has its first woman lawyer. Fraulein Lili Zgraggon, daughter of a Bernese solicitor, was formally admitted to the bar today after passing all the necessary qualifying examinations, under the provisions of the new civil code. This code, recently enacted, although it does not confer the right of suffrage, has immensely improved the legal status of Swiss women, who are now admitted to all of the professions, except the ministry, on the same terms as men.

Workmen's Compensation Law

I Write Employers Liability Insurance in the Old Aetna Life Ins. Co., of Hartford

This reliable company has about $100,000,000.00 in assets back of every policy and is the largest and strongest company in the world writing life, accident and liability insurance.

Personally I know little about the working of the new law, nor does any other man, not even those that put it on the statute books. Time and the courts must decide this question, as they will also decide the new Auto License law.

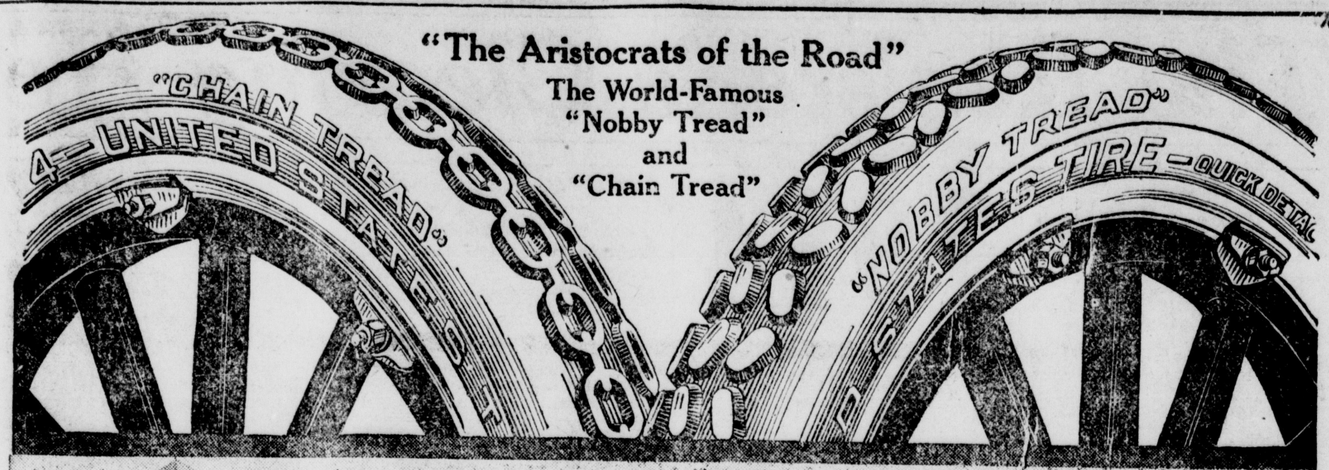

I. J. Muma, general agent for the Aetna Insurance Co., of Los Angeles knows more about this law than most men, as he has spent all his business life in such work. My attorney here in Santa Ana is also well informed on such matters—the advice of both are at your service.

Yours insurancely,

"The Aristocrats of the Road"
The World-Famous "Nobby Tread" and "Chain Tread"

Four Famous Factories' Combined Methods Make United States Tires Supreme

Veteran Car Owners were quick to recognize the great, unfailing additional Mileage and absolute protection against skidding that "Nobby Tread" and "Chain Tread" Tires give.

Popularity never comes unearned to a product.

The tremendous popularity of the "Nobby" and "Chain" Tread has been earned by their ability not only to prevent skidding but to "deliver" extra tire mileage under all conditions.

The choice of shrewd car owners is not based upon mere test records, but upon the actual wear that these United States Tires give on all kinds of roads day in and day out.

It is the grinding and gruelling wear and tear that they "stand up" to that has alone established for United States Tires their well-earned title of "Mightier Than the Road".

This reputation and the actual number in use on the automobiles in the West means just one thing—that these famous tires have "made good."

This tremendous organization of the Four Famous Factories is "delivering" real tire efficiency day in and day out.

When you purchase United States Tires you are sure of these vitally important facts:

1. Of the Four Factory Organization behind these famous tires.

2. Of vast experience in tire building.

3. Of a tremendous organization that actually backs up its tires.

The overwhelming number of automobile manufacturers who have selected United States Tires as the standard equipment of their 1914 cars proves unquestionably that United States Tires are today the accepted standard for real tire service.

Any Good Dealer Can Supply You With United States Tires

Don't Be Talked Into a Substitute

Your own dealer or any reliable dealer can supply you with United States Tires—Smooth Tread, "Nobby Tread," or "Chain Tread." If he has no stock on hand, insist that he get them for you at once,—or go to another dealer.

Note This—Dealers who sell United States Tires sell the best of everything.
